

ANNUAL CONCERT OF SCHOOL OF MUSIC

Milton College Students to Give Concert at Milton on Wednesday Evening, June 17.

Milton, June 5.—The Firemen's band begin their series of summer-night concerts in the park this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The general public is cordially invited to attend and enjoy these concerts. Everybody and their "kidds" are expected to be present.

The horse stolen from Hackwell of Bradford was recovered here Wednesday night. The thief sold the horse to H. O.ingham, a student in the college, for $110, getting $35 cash and a mortgage on the horse for the balance.

On Wednesday evening, June 17th, the School of Music of Milton college will give its twenty-seventh annual concert under the direction of J. M. Stillman. The concert will take place in the S. D. B. church. Miss Georgia L. Black and Miss Ethlyn M. Davis will be the accompanists. The following is the program: Spring Song, Phant—College Chorus; I Love Thee, Op. 34, Piano, Edward Grell; Laura L. Godfrey; The Rocky Mountain Song, Landon Ronald; I. N. Remondville; The Mill, A. Jensen; College Chorus; Berenice, Op. 34, Piano, Paul Liebling; Mary G. Brown; The Song Beautiful, Soprano Solo, F. WAS MARRIED AT DENVER WEDNESDAY

W. J. Miller of Afton and Miss Sarah Z. Drafiel Were Wedded at Denver.

Afton, June 5.—So quietly did W. J. Miller take his departure from Afton last Monday morning, that only his immediate family and a few friends knew of his going and that his destination was far off Denver, Colorado. These few however knew that not only was he bound for Denver, but that his visit to the Rocky mountain metropolis was for the purpose of taking unto himself a wife.

An announcement card, just received by the Afton correspondent tells the story in these words: "Mr. William J. Miller, Miss Sarah Z. Drafiel, married Wednesday, June the third, nineteen hundred and eight, Denver, Colorado, at home, Afton, Wisconsin." The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. George B. Vosburgh, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church at Denver. After spending a few days sight seeing in the Continental States, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will return to make their home here, where both are so well known. Mr. Miller being one of the leading farmers of this section and the present chairman of the town, while his bride is the daughter of Deputy Game Warden and Mrs. Peter Drafiel, and is a young woman highly esteemed by all. For the past school year, Mrs. Miller has been teaching at Afton, Colorado, and prior to this she was principal of the state graded schools at Afton and at Shepley, consequently she has a wide circle of friends here, who will gladly welcome her back as the gracious mistress of the handsome Miller home. The exact date of Mr. and Mrs. Miller's return is not known, but they can rest assured of hearty congratulations and best wishes from all when they arrive.

TWO PREACHERS WHO ENCOURAGE SMOKING IN THEIR CHURCH
THE REV. E. V. SHAYLER OF CHICAGO AND THE REV. SYDNEY GOODMAN OF ATLANTIC CITY.

The ultra progressive church spirit today has taken on a daring innovation in two sections of the country at the same time. In Atlantic City the Rev. Sydney Goodman, assistant pastor of Ascension Episcopal church, and pastor of the Men's church of that city preached last Sunday evening last Sunday surrounded by clouds of tobacco smoke and following a program of illustrated songs, in which the congregation joined. The hall where the services were held was full to the doors and nearly every man was smoking. Watchful mothers passed around stacks of exceeding length and blackness whenever a new worshipper arrived or when a man already in his seat had smoked his pipe "to the hilt." In the early part of the evening a large punch bowl was full of lemonade, but that was soon emptied and the late comers had to be content with water. At the door stood a large urn and as the men passed out many of them dropped small coins in it to provide a fund for tobacco for the next Sunday night's services. The Men's church is an outcome of the Men's club of which the Rev. Goodman has been the head for some little time. Mr. Goodman has had considerable experience and great success in securing large audiences to his brief and pointed sermons. While at college he was an enthusiastic settlement worker and has since organized Men's clubs in Toronto, Canada, Columbus, Ohio, Janesville, Ohio, and now at Atlantic City, N. J. In his Men's club he entertains strongly, and his evening's entertainment usually includes a raffle, a draw and frequently a boxing contest. It is not uncommon at the Men's club to have a light punch provided for those who desire it. The Rev. E. V. Snyder of Grace Episcopal church at

DENVER'S GREAT CONVENTION HALL

MONSTER BUILDING WILL BE THROWN OPEN JUNE 27.

IT WILL SEAT OVER 12,000

Elaborate Preparations for the Democratic National Gathering—How the Delegates and Press Will Be Accommodated.

Denver, Colo., June 5.—Costing $550,000, seating 12,000 people, containing probably the most perfect heating and ventilating system of any public building in the world, Denver's monster Auditorium will throw open its doors June 27 to welcome the long list of conventions to be held in Denver this summer.

The seating, decorations and other arrangements for the Democratic national convention which will convene in the Auditorium July 7 have been completed and accepted by the national committee. The hall will accommodate more than 12,000 people and the first floor alone will have 6,000 regular seats. The auditorium is constructed so that the huge stage is near the center of the building.

Is of Huge Dimensions.
The building is 260x200 feet in dimensions and is of the heights of a five-story building. Its seating capacity is larger than Madison Square garden in New York, which holds 12,000 people; the great Coliseum in Chicago, where the Republican convention is to be held in June, which holds 11,011 people, or the Mormon tabernacle in Salt Lake, which seats 10,000. There are 24 exits, including 240 linear feet of exit space, and the building can be emptied in two minutes.

In preparation for the convention, the rostrum and platform will be erected at the west side of the auditorium with the seats for the delegates and alternates extending along the floor of the stage proper. Upon the platform will be 445 seats, which will be reserved for the members of the national committee and for the guests of honor. The number of seats on the rostrum will be 101. Directly in front of the chairman's platform on the rostrum will be four seats and tables for the telegraph companies in the basement.

Good Seats for the Press.
Desks and seats for the newspaper correspondents and special writers will be arranged in a half circle about the rostrum in such a manner as to give each writer an unobstructed view of the speaker and within easy hearing distance. There will be 303 seats in this section, each seat having a space of 24 inches wide.

Seats for the delegates in front of the rostrum are arranged nearly in the center of the building. The exact number of seats is 1,005, and immediately behind this section are the seats of the alternates, also 1,005 in number.

LEARNED LIFE'S LESSON EARLY.

Mistake of First Day of School Not to Be Repeated.

The state superintendent of public schools of Maine recently recalled a story of his early school life. He distinctly remembered, he said to an audience of Maine "schoolmams," his first day in school. It was also his brother's first day, and they occupied seats across the aisle from each other.

It was in the afternoon when the young and pretty teacher came to my seat, placed her hand on my shoulder and asked, "Don't you love me?" I was almost frightened out of my wits, but I managed to look up at her.

"No, ma'am," I replied.
She then went to my brother, directly across the aisle, and asked him the same question, to which he replied:

"Yes, ma'am."
"You may readily imagine which of us got the raisins from the pudding during that term of school. All that I got I pounded out of my brother. I forthwith made up my mind that whenever that question was asked me again I would always reply:

"Yes, ma'am."

IN ONE TACTFUL UTTERANCE.

Great Man Broke Up the Most Profound Social Frost.

I was lately told a delightful story of a great statesman staying with a humble and anxious host, who had invited a party of simple and unimportant people to meet the great man. The statesman came in late for dinner, and was introduced to the party; he made a series of old-fashioned bows in all directions, but no one felt in a position to offer any observations. The great man, at the conclusion of the ceremony, turned to his host, and said, in tones that had often thrilled a listening senate: "What very convenient jugs you have in your food-room! They pour well!" The social frost broke up; the company were delighted to find that the great man was interested in mundane matters of a kind on which every one might be permitted to have an opinion, and the conversation, starting from the humblest conveniences of daily life, melted insensibly into more liberal subjects.—Arthur C. Benson, in Putnam's and the Reader.

MAE O'REILLY IS ALIVE

TRUELSON'S FORMER WIFE IS NOW IN SARATOGA, N. Y.

His "Confession" That She Was Murdered by Him and Mrs. Guinness Proved False.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 5.—Mae O'Reilly, who, Julia G. Truelson, Jr., declared in a "confession" to the Texas authorities, was murdered on the Guinness farm at Laporte, Ind., is in this village alive and well. She arrived on Friday last from New York city and is the guest of friends here.

Mae O'Reilly at first denied her identity, but later admitted it. According to the story told by Daniel F. Welch, a member of the family with whom she is stopping, she has been employed in New York city the past winter.

"Miss O'Reilly has had no correspondence with Truelson," Welch declared, "since the time when he was sent to Elmhurst. After her marriage with him in 1905 she went to work and has heard nothing of him since then." Welch said Miss O'Reilly has never been in Laporte. In June, 1907, when Truelson alleged in his "confession" that he and Mrs. Guinness killed her, she was at Rochester.

Laporte, Ind., June 5.—After an all day session the county commissioners Thursday night announced that they would stand by Sheriff Smitzer in his determination to probe the Belle Guinness mystery to the bottom and would furnish such money as may be necessary to complete the investigation of all clues that may come up.

SENATOR IN PHILADELPHIA.

Senator McNichol Has Warrants Issued for Kaufmann and Gibbons.

Philadelphia, June 5.—An action which, it is said, presages one of the bitterest political fights that has been witnessed in this city for a long time was taken here Thursday night by State Senator James P. McNichol in causing warrants to be issued for Max Kaufmann, until Thursday secretary to Mayor Royburn, and D. Clarence Gibbons, secretary of the Law and Order society, on criminal charges. The warrants charge in the case of Kaufmann, perjury, and in that of Gibbons, libel.

The issuing of the warrants followed the holding of Senator McNichol, the acknowledged Republican organization leader, earlier in the day on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Kaufmann, who sought redress because he was named by McNichol as the go-between who had been paid $10,000 to induce Mr. Gibbons to make raids on disorderly houses and gambling places in 1906 and so discredit the administration of the then Mayor John Weaver.

Kaufmann at the hearing of Senator McNichol's libel witness stand and denied vigorously that there was any truth in the statement that he had received $10,000 from McNichol. He denied that he had represented himself as an agent of Gibbons and declared that the story was absolutely false in every particular.

Immediately after the hearing Mayor Royburn sent a letter to Kaufmann notifying him that he was discharged from the position of secretary.

The warrant against Gibbons is based on the publication of a letter written by Gibbons and bearing upon the conditions in this city.

BIG STEAMERS FIRST TRIP.

City of Cleveland Carries Detroit Board of Commerce.

Detroit, Mich., June 5.—Amid a tremendous din of whistles and saluting cannon, the new 441-foot Detroit & Cleveland line steamer City of Cleveland, the largest passenger craft on fresh water, left her dock Thursday afternoon on her first trip, carrying 500 members of the Detroit board of commerce on a four days' excursion to Sault Ste. Marie. Next week the steamer will begin her regular run between Detroit and Cleveland.

The City of Cleveland was built at a cost of $1,250,000. For three cylinder compound engines, said to be the most powerful ever placed in a lake ship, develop 8,000 horse power and are capable of driving the ship 25 miles an hour. The ship's interior woodwork is carved Mexican mahogany. A passenger elevator connects the seven decks, and a bow rudder operated by steam steering gear will facilitate navigation of the narrow passages along the lakes.

Three Killed in Train Crash.
Joliet, Ill., June 5.—Three persons were killed, 20 seriously injured in a collision between an Elgin, Joliet & Eastern freight and an Aurora & Joliet electric car Thursday night at Big Slough, seven miles west of Joliet. W. W. Walcott, Aurora; C. H. Whittington, Philadelphia, and P. W. Dale, a bricklayer of Chicago, were killed.

Camden's Slayer Identified.
Austin, Minn., June 5.—The real name of "James Montague," who shot and killed A. P. Camden of Chicago in St. Paul, is James Flood, and he lived in Austin until recently. His parents now live in Lyle, nine miles from Austin. He was subject to fainting spells, and several times threatened to commit suicide.

Runaway Fatal to Three.
Fairfield, Ia., June 5.—Mrs. David Roth was killed and her husband and daughter were fatally injured in a runaway accident here Thursday night. Their carriage collided with a heavy bus and they were thrown beneath the feet of the horses.

OUTLOOK FOR TENNIS

Possibilities of American Team For the Davis Cup.

LARNED IS STILL BEST.

Wright Will Try Hard to Regain Old Time Form—Clothier May Be on Team—Brookes and Wilding, Australians, to Visit America.

How to lift the Davis international challenge cup is the problem which takes first place in the thoughts of lawn tennis players at this time of the year. From developments early this season this has been appreciatively realized by those who have the matter in charge, and Dr. James Dwight, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, and the executive committee have begun a task not at all easy and somewhat thankless, especially should defeat be the team's portion. The opening negotiations for the matches Dr. Dwight has handled with such diplomacy that the appearance of the Australians, Norman E. Brookes and Anthony F. Wilding, is assured, in addition to the English team. Indeed, this is a feather in the cap of the present lawn tennis administration, provided the American victors of the racket of the top flight support the game as they should and as it now appears evident that they intend to do.

No thoroughly has the governing body of the sport come to a realization of what must be accomplished in the way of building up a strong team that it is certain that all of the men who have any claim to distinction whatever will soon be pegging away in the most serious manner so as to arrive at form. The national champion, William Aymar Larned, is among this number, and it must be fairly admitted that his game is still of the old surprising beauty of accomplishment and that he stands head and shoulders above his fellows. Furthermore, he it is said that Larned is not disposed to shirk any responsibility that the National association may place upon him at such a time, when the good of the American game may stand in some position of jeopardy. From those closest to Larned it is learned that he will devote himself to a considerable amount of play in early tournaments, but that he is disposed to confine himself to grass courts.

Of course the ranking ten of the official list have come into consideration for the cup team. Broadly speaking, that select number was regarded as the best in some respects when the list was first issued, and some of them are not even now taken or accepted seriously in the light of having any possibility of opportunity of representing this country against the Englishmen. Beaulieu C. Wright, ranked second to Larned, has been making a most determined effort to attain his usual speed. It is early at present, but the chief fact remains that the former internationalist has been led to reconsider his previously announced determination not to take a place on a cup team this year, recent playing on the part of Wright has shown him to be unduly rather than suffering from any particular fault, and as he has gone into something like strict training great improvement is to be looked for in a short time.

The next four of the ranking ten—Karl H. Behr, Raymond D. Little, Robert Le Roy and Clarence Holm—are said to be most unlikely to make the team. Behr's father has decided that his son must confine himself to business, with only such tennis as his duties will permit of. Little has grown more uncertain with years and is not to be reckoned with. Le Roy's record last year is taken with a "grain of salt," and he is far from having the physique to stand any grueling matches. Holm is not likely to make the team or to be considered because of his antagonism to the governing body.

Of the others of the ten young Edwin P. Larned and Irving C. Wright are regarded as strong, and should they round out their promise one or both may find a place. But, going back to the ten that were ranked, three men—William J. Clothier, Frederick Alexander and Harold H. Hackett—are receiving much consideration. The tall Philadelphia, Clothier, is in line again to get up to his best, if he can attain it. He is receiving enthusiasm from Larned and is regarded as one of the likeliest men of all.

As the matter stands, the officials are drumming up the men of top flight, so that there is likely to be more class on the American courts this year than in the past. With the cup matches held over to August, there is opportunity for development, and, on the whole, the players are most cheerfully confident as to the outcome.

Shirt Ball Newest of Pitching Freaks.
You've heard about the knuckle ball, Mathewson's fade away ball, the rise ball, the splitter, the curve and endless others, but the versatile twirlers have added still another to the list. The latest discovery is the shirt waist ball. More properly it should be called the "shirt" ball, for the garment generally termed "shirt waist" does not figure in its delivery. The shirt waist ball is really only a fast one shoulder high in Chicago. It is used only on hot days; for it is then that all the fans in the bleachers in center field take off their coats. When they do this there is a straight white line parallel with the shoulder of the pitcher and the batsman's eyes. When the ball shoots toward him he cannot see it because of the white shirt.

Remarkable Work of Demarest, Amateur Billiard Champion.

OUR GOLFERS INVADE EUROPE

Women Players to Engage in Important Matches Abroad—Americans Pass Up Olympic Tennis Contest. Other Interesting Sporting Notes.

Calvin Demarest, the young Chicago billiard player who recently captured the national amateur billiard title at the 342 game for the second successive year, never handled a billiard cue until four years ago, when he was sixteen years of age. Tom Foley, the veteran Chicago room keeper, was the first to notice the lad. At Foley's suggestion Professor Perkins, a billiard instructor, took Demarest as a pupil, and in a few months the youngster was winning Chicago tournaments.

From a winner of class tournaments he developed rapidly until he demonstrated in practice matches that he was a better player than Charles P. Conkling of Chicago, who formerly held the amateur title and has a defeat of Wilson Foss to his credit.

Two years ago Demarest entered the championship tournament and finished third to J. Fred Poggendorf and Charles P. Gardner, who tied for the lead. Demarest improved so much during the succeeding year that he was a favorite over the field in last year's tournament, held at the Lederhans club, New York. He won the championship with a clean score of five victories. In addition he took all the prizes in sight—the high run with 115, the single average with 27.6-11 and the grand average with 34.36-101.

When Demarest entered the tourney against the veteran amateurs last year it was claimed they would be too foxy for him, but he never failed to meet each situation with the skill of a veteran. Twice during the recent tournament he broke the world's amateur record, once making a run of 170 and again tallying 202 errors in a brilliant fashion. Demarest made an average of 30.10-13, or a high grand average for the tournament of 21.10-84, which is also a world's record.

Experts have predicted that Demarest cannot long remain an amateur because he has outstripped the men in the front rank who have been playing the game for many years. As high an authority as George Skosson has said that the Chicago boy has the qualities that combine to make an eminent expert.

Personally Demarest is much on the order of Willie Hoppe, modest and unassuming.

Unless the unforeseen should happen the coming season will go down as a memorable one in golf history. Most important, or at least of most general interest at this time, is the international phase of the game, of which there are unmistakable signs of activity along several lines.

The first installment of American women golfers sailed for the other side recently. They were three Boston experts, the Misses Phelps and Miss Alice Underwood. Later Miss Margaret Curtis, the national title holder, and her sister Harriet, the former champion, may decide to repeat their visit of a year ago. From this vicinity Miss Ella Hurbit, the well known Morris county player, who was secretary of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association last year, will sail shortly.

Official notice has been given that the United States National Lawn Tennis association will take no cognizance of the lawn tennis matches in connection with the Olympic games in London.

Dr. James Dwight, chairman of the committee appointed to consider equally Olympic tennis and the Davis cup matters, has written to American Lawn Tennis as follows:

"The committee appointed to take charge of all matters concerning the Davis cup and the Olympic games have voted unanimously that the United States National Lawn Tennis association shall take no part in the Olympic games."

Jackey Milton Henry, after a few years' absence abroad, is likely to ride in America again this season. He rode the winner for the Grand Prix de Paris for Baron Rothschild and has had other successes, but may return to his own land to take one of the top weights in the Suburban handicap.

Not necessary to buy a Hammock every year when you can buy a Vudor and have it for years.

We have just received a new complete line in the line as well as the Jac Guard weaves.

THE VUDOR CHAIR HAMMOCK

is a simply devised combination of Hammock and Morris Chair. It possesses the most enjoyable features of both, and is just the thing for a weary person to take his ease in at the end of a strenuous day.

You can adjust it in a few seconds to any angle desired to give the completest relaxation to every nerve and muscle.

It can be put up in a very few minutes and may be hung on the wall, out of the way, when not in use.

It is adapted for children as well as grown-ups, as it may be hung but a few inches from the floor, so the youngsters can use it all day without danger of falling out.

Ask to be shown how it works in actual use; we have one in position in our carpet department. Price $3.00; with pillow $3.50.

Money-Making Ways of Using Want Ads

To Buy or Sell a Farm

How delightful the life of the farm! Do you want to get in touch with people who have Farms to Sell or who want to Buy? Here is the quickest, most economical way possible. On the Classified page of this paper we use headings called "Real Estate—Farms" and "Business Chances." A little Want Ad stating your wants in a simple, brief way and inserted there at the cost of but a few cents will "put you in touch." This way you deal direct with Owners and Buyers. You pay no large commissions to anybody. Naturally you want to Buy cheap—and Sell for the most money. Our little Want Ads do both. It will pay you to read the headings suggested, each day, for people are constantly offering new bargains here—because they always get results.

EXAMPLES

WANT TO BUY FARM OF ABOUT 100 ACRES with 1000 bushels of corn. Must be bargain and up-to-date in all particulars. Will consider buying of stock. In answering write particulars in detail. Address R. H. 32, this office.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE—SITUATED IN MOST desirable part of Franklin County. 120 acres. modern improvements. Fenced in well at once. Terms. Investigate this. Address 11133, this office.

THREE LINES, THREE TIMES, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

This is a day of BREVITY. It is as valuable for YOU to know just WHERE to go when wants arise, as to satisfy such wants WHEN you have found the place. You are ALWAYS wanting SOMETHING. Prosperity and misfortune alike create WANTS. And they must be MET. The greatest LITTLE satisfiers of BIG wants are the Want Ads on our Classified page.

CONFIDENCE AS AN ASSET

The Madison Democrat takes the Gazette to task for saying that there would be no more money panics, and asks, why?

An old Irish woman went into the savings bank last fall, during the currency stringency, and said to the teller, "They tell me that I can't have no money, and I came in to see about it."

The man at the desk took in the situation and said, "Certainly, Mrs. Flaherty, you can have your money; do you want it now?"

"Oh, no," she replied, "What should I want of it? I just wanted to know that I could get it."

The old woman went away happy, with confidence restored, and the case represents about all there was to the money panic of last October.

People became excited and everybody wanted their money at the same time. There was not enough in quick assets to meet the demand and so two or three hundred millions of makeshift currency was provided to meet the emergency.

Then the stock of confidence commenced to accumulate and for the past four months money has been a drag on the market.

The emergency currency bill, recently passed, provides for $500,000,000 or as much of that amount as may be necessary to keep this important asset called confidence intact.

This new money will not be clearing house nor cashier's checks, but the coin of the realm, good anywhere because the government is behind it.

The panic of last October would have been averted, had the nation been equipped, as it is today, to meet demands, and loss of confidence would not have occurred. The experience will not be repeated, for while the new currency measure is not perfect, it will tide us over until the commission can work out an intelligent plan for permanent use.

CORRUPT CAMPAIGN FUNDS

The Chicago Inter Ocean has discovered a way out of the campaign fund dilemma, and thus elucidates it. The scheme is all right and should be satisfactory to everybody.

"Many of the Inter Ocean's contributors are deploring the failure of congress to pass a bill for the publication of campaign contributions."

"Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan have exchanged open letters on the subject. Other candidates whose consciences have been trained to 'awaken' when 'in public' are stricken with grief, and may so, because congress failed in this matter to do a plain duty."

"For the comfort and consolation of all such the Inter Ocean has sought and found a way out of the sad embarrassment caused to both parties by the neglect of congress. It is—refuse to take the money; that is, the money that the bill was to prevent from being taken."

"Selfish no funds from corporations; make no campaign calls on large business concerns; avoid all contact with both good trusts and bad; let no mauler of great wealth be even 'approached' with the campaign subscription list."

"The beauty of this plan is its simplicity. If the national committee don't ask for the money, they won't get it."

"This is so easy that we wonder the idea has not occurred to such resourceful men as Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft. Moreover, it is so much better. How much more satisfactory to both committees to be honest, spontaneously and voluntarily, than to be honest under the compulsion of law!"

"We cannot see where there will be any opposition to this plan. Certainly there will be none from the men and stock companies of great wealth. Neither Mr. Taft nor Mr. Bryan, for instance, will ever that J. P. Morgan, or John D. Rockefeller, or Jacob Schiff, or H. H. Rogers, or any Chicago packer sitting on his committee doorknob with a big bag of coin and refusing to be happy until he gets rid of it."

"Even Mr. Hartman did not hand over that celebrated $200,000 to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign fund in 1904 until Mr. Roosevelt had called him to the White House and urged him strenuously to get it and give it."

"The way, therefore, is perfectly clear. Despite the moral turpitude of congress, both committees can get on very nicely without a publicity law. By abstaining from asking for tainted money, they will be sure not to get it—just as sure as if they were protected by a thousand enactments."

"This plan is not copyrighted. It is set forth pro bono publico. On account of its great value at this critical time, however, the Inter Ocean requests for it the widest publicity. 'Washington, Cincinnati, and Lincoln papers please copy.'"

WELLMAN ON TAFT
Walter Wellman closes an article on Taft in the American Review of Reviews with the following complimentary language:

"Not only has Taft had the training that fits him to be president; he has the temperament. It would be difficult to imagine a temperament better adapted than his to this difficult task."

"He is a happy half-way between McKinley and Roosevelt, with most of the strength and few of the weaknesses of both. He has the training of the lawyer, or the judge, or the administrator, of the diplomat."

"He knows the American people, he knows the government, he knows the affairs of the world. He has an almost unprecedented power of handling affairs and men. Scarcely abides with him, and patience, and justice, and strength, and firmness. He may never fire the hearts of the people as Roosevelt has; he may never be looked upon by all as a paragon of unblemished goodness, as was McKinley."

"But if Taft becomes president he will get results. He will be master without carrying a whip. He will always strive, as we see he has always striven, to use infinite pains to get at all the facts, to clarify them, to form slow but sure judgments, and then to stand by them."

"At the White House, if Taft presides there, will be a great calm, great patience, of listening and investigation, great energy of work, great good humor, great peace."

AN OLDTIME BANK

"Starting with 119 depositors and aggregate deposits of $18,000 in 1833, the bank today has 91,300 depositors and nearly $62,000,000 of deposits. One can scarcely estimate the amount of good such an institution as this has done for the community. It has encouraged thrift and promoted wise investments. It is safe to say that many families owe to its protection the fact that they enjoy today financial stability instead of helpless poverty."

This is the experience of the old Greenwich Savings bank of New York, which recently celebrated its 75th anniversary. The bank has successfully weathered every panic, and is today one of the strongest banking houses in the country.

The Iowa primary law worked like a number to double-barrel shotgun, loaded with six drachms of powder and an ounce and a half of shot. It performed good execution at both ends, but was a little demoralizing to the man in the rear, who in this instance happened to be Governor Cummins. The governor wanted to appeal to the "dear people" and, as the boys say, "he got what was coming to him."

The constitutionality of the new Wisconsin life insurance laws, is likely to be tested in the supreme court. The Columbia National Life is defendant in a suit recently begun by the state, and ex-Senator John C. Spooner has been retained by the company.

In spite of more or less disturbance in business, activity in the building trade is greater than a year ago. This is especially true of Chicago, and many of the smaller western cities. It is gratifying to know that Janesville shares in this substantial prosperity, and is not seriously affected by the panic.

Taft is reasonably sure of 600 votes on the first informal ballot, and the number may be increased to 700. His nomination will be made before Wisconsin has a chance to vote, and the hand-wagon will be so far away that a scramble will be useless.

When You Break a Bill

The mighty rock, it stands entire, Defying time and tempests dire, It braves the bounding billows' shock, Their fury does not faze that rock. It stands unmovable until Man comes along and twists a drill. And plunges the hole with dynamite And sets the little fuse alight.

To move that rock is now a joke, And why? Because that rock is broke. An infant with a basket may in time move all of it away. I wish that it required a drill

And dynamite to break a bill. I wish this ten-spot I possess Could not be rent apart by loss. For while this bill remains entire To spend it I have small desire. I will not spend it, no indeed! Unless for something that I need.

THE WIDTH OF A SMILE.

This is a statistical age. Everything nowadays must be reduced to the average of tabulated figures.

Following this disposition, an inquiring Englishman with a genius for figures has been devoting himself to the statistics of smiles. Naturally he finds the smiles of women the more interesting study.

On an average, he says, a woman's mouth is stretched a half inch each time she smiles. He allows her thirty-six smiles a day—a fair average—and, according to this computation, the temporary extensions of her lips amount to the total of eighteen inches.

Very good indeed! Pursuing these statistics, one can easily figure that in an entire year the average woman's face would be weathered and twisted into more than 182 yards of sunny, winsome smiles. And that is going some.

This presumably accurate estimate, however, it must be remembered, takes no account of variations. You see, there are some women who do not smile more than the sixteenth part of an inch at one attempt. And some of them do not make the attempt more than thirty-six times a month. Their smiles are stilly and therefore difficult to measure. Besides, they are the smiles that come off.

Other gracious ones smile easily and often—all over their faces. Most anything good will set their bonny lips to stretching and their dimples to dancing accompaniment to laughing eyes. Your English expert cannot measure the aggregate length of their smiles. Not on your life. That sort of smiles stretch leagues of happy laughter.

And there are some men also who can do a good job of smiling. The cultivation of mirth, starts somewhere down in the region of the diaphragm, creeps upward until it spreads all over the jolly countenance. Such smiles are somewhat less than a rod in length. They need no eulogy.

Note, for instance, those types of hearty, irrepressible, generous, wide open smiles by Theodore Roosevelt and William J. Bryan.

Let your Englishman tackle them. Half an inch? Why, they are as wide as a barn door.

Applying the Englishman's measurements, Bryan and Roosevelt smile heavily and without mental reservation seventeen miles a day.

Value of the Nile.

The Nile is one of the longest rivers in the world, but it is not especially valuable as a navigable stream. Its chief benefit to the country is from the immense deposits of mud carried down in the annual floods and which have made the region overflowed one of the most fertile in the world.

Credit or Cash.

The man with the high forehead was heard to remark to his companion in the twenty-first story elevator: "It is a positive delight, Sawyer, to meet a man you feel you can trust."

"Oh, I don't know," returned Sawyer, who keeps a grocery shop, "I prefer the chap that pays cash."

TOWN LOYALTY TALK.

Oklahoma Paper Hammers Hot Sparks From the Anvil.

DO ANY OF 'EM STRIKE YOU?

How Can You Consistently Preach Patronage of Home Industries When You Buy Your Printing From Other Places?—Hints to the Wise.

Some hot sparks are struck right off the anvil by the Morning Phoenix of Muskogee, Okla., for the benefit of the home trade movement. The Phoenix, which knows the value of a good newspaper to a town, is a weary of seeing local concerns sent to other and larger cities for job printing work when Muskogee's two biggest industries are printing offices. Nearly every town in the country has more or less reason to complain of a similar tendency upon the part of some of those who expect the local papers to boom the burg from year to year and then buy their printing from some establishment elsewhere. What the Phoenix says, or most of it at any rate, is applicable to almost any town in America. The Phoenix heads its editorial remarks "Town Loyalty."

"In its battle for the town or city in which it is published every newspaper worthy of the name makes a hobby of insisting that home industries be patronized, and hence after issue labors for an additional tin bucket brigade and gives more of its space to the public than it sells to its advertisers. In season and out it works for home industries and gives aid and comfort in every way possible to those establishments that have the weekly pay roll to meet, and the slogan of 'Patronize Home Industries' is never absent."

"True of publishers in other places, this is also true of those operating printing establishments in Muskogee, and in view of the existing conditions here the Phoenix desires to make a few brief statements and then ask several pertinent questions. Next to the government and railroad pay rolls, two of the printing plants of this city are the largest establishments in the city. These establishments are the best advertising assets the city has or ever had and bring more people to Muskogee than all other influences combined. These establishments pay large taxes into the city treasury and annually are the cause of more wealth being added to the city than any other industries operated here. The working forces of these plants are union men—linotype operators, printers, stereotypers and pressmen—and are paid the union scale and work without hours. Most of the employees have their homes here, and all of them spend their weekly wage in Muskogee. So much for the few statements. Now a question or two."

"Why do the city officials, the judicial officials and the officials of the interior department, all citizens of Muskogee, buy from traveling men representing Kansas City, St. Louis, Galveston and Dallas houses printers' supplies that could be purchased of the local printing establishments?"

"Why do the banks of Muskogee send away from home for their stationery, all of which could be supplied by or through the local firms at the same price they now pay?"

"Why will elective county and city officials pat the local labor unions on the back and then send their orders for office supplies to a Dallas firm working only women and children and nonunion men?"

"Why will the men who most of all depend upon local support for business, the bankers, the lawyers and the elective officials, persist in ignoring the local establishments and buying their supplies out of town and continue to howl about patronizing home industries?"

"How many local officials are elected by out of town voters?"

"How long would the seven or eight banks of Muskogee continue in business if that business was confined to their out of town customers?"

"How much taxes are paid in Muskogee by the Dorsey Printing company of Dallas, or George D. Barnard of St. Louis, or Clark & Courts of Galveston?"

"What have they ever done for this city that entitles them to a line of business such as would add twenty or thirty men to the city pay rolls if given to the printers of this city?"

"Why would it not be a good idea for some of the Muskogee men who send their money away from home for office supplies to get a new motto and hang it over their desks, reading, 'Patronize Home Industries,' and the next time the out of town drummer comes along point to the motto and tell him there is nothing doing? Either this should be done or they should not pose as town boosters or critics of the anvil chorus."

Hint on Laying Out a Suburb.
A striking instance of how the benefits of nature may be preserved in the laying out of a suburb is shown in the western part of Oak Park in the little street known as Elizabeth court. When that section of Chicago first was built up it contained many fine oak trees, two of which stood directly in the line of the thoroughfare as it was projected from North Home avenue to North Kenilworth. The old poem "Woodman, Spare That Tree," appealed to the owners of the tract, and consequently the oaks were left standing in the middle of the street, the driveways winding about their bases in the best manner possible. Since that day the trees have grown and flourished and lend a unique attraction to the neighborhood.

DENTISTRY

Crown and bridge work. Where a few teeth remain in the mouth, I can replace the missing ones with a gold bridge that will fit perfectly, cause no discomfort and be as satisfactory as the natural teeth. This specialty in dentistry has been brought to perfection at this office, and when properly done will last for years. I use pure 22k. gold, which is a guarantee your work will be the best.

Gold Crowns, $5 a tooth.

Not $10, as is charged elsewhere in this city for exactly the same work.

Call and consult me and get estimates of cost of your work. I extract teeth painlessly, free when plates are ordered.

This is another feature that counts. Others in this city charge from $3.00 to $5 extra for extracting your teeth.

M'GOWAN VS. PAUL ON TRIAL TODAY

Trial of Milton Tax Case Was Begun This Morning Before Judge Grimm.

Judge Grimm came down from Jefferson this morning and at 10 o'clock the trial of the case of E. C. McGowan vs. John Paul was begun. This is a suit brought by Mr. McGowan, a resident of Milton, against Mr. Paul as the town chairman and against the other officers of the town to restrain them from paying for certain cement sidewalks and for the lighting of the town. Mr. McGowan alleged that a tax of $800 which was levied and collected for this purpose was not properly levied and he is attempting to restrain the town from paying out this money. B. P. Crossman, who laid the cement sidewalks in question, has retained Attorney John Cunningham to look after his interest and the defendants are represented by Jeffrey, Mount, Smith & Avery. L. E. Gottle of Edgerton appears for the plaintiff.

Sometime ago the plaintiff in this action secured an injunction against the defendants to restrain them from paying out this money, but on its coming up for hearing it was dissolved and later this action brought. The taking of testimony occupied all the morning and was not all in at a late hour this afternoon.

Grants Divorce

Judge Grimm this morning granted a divorce to Annette Swanson from her husband, Swan Swanson, on the grounds of desertion.

MISS GRACE BAILEY TO WED ON TUESDAY

Rev. J. W. Laughlin to Unite Miss Grace Bailey and George W. Caldwell in Marriage.

At noon on Tuesday next the Rev. J. W. Laughlin will unite in marriage Miss Grace Bailey, the daughter of Mr. F. E. Bailey, and George W. Caldwell. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride at 14 Clark street and will be attended only by the immediate family of the bride and groom. After the ceremony the young couple will leave for a wedding trip and on their return will make their home in Chicago on the west side. Mr. Caldwell has a position in Chicago with the Western Electric company.

Both Miss Bailey and Mr. Caldwell who is the son of P. K. Caldwell of 236 South Main street are well known in Janesville. Mr. Caldwell has been attending the University of Wisconsin for the past few years where he took the engineering course.

JANESVILLE MEDICS ATTENDED MEETING

Of the American Medical Association Which Have Been Held in Chicago This Week.

Quite a number of local physicians have been in Chicago during the past week attending the meetings of the American Medical Association which have been held in the Windy City. Among those who were there were Drs. Pembler, Loomis, Palmer, Woods, Judd, Farnsworth, Nuzum, Pfeiffer, and Mills. Drs. Pembler and Mills also attended the banquet of the class of '83 of Northwestern University, of which both were members. Drs. Loomis and Palmer also attended this banquet, which was held at the Auditorium on Wednesday, as the guests of the other two. At the annual banquet of Northwestern University, which was held on Tuesday at the Illinois Athletic Club, Drs. Loomis, Palmer, Pembler and Mills were present, all of them being alumni of that college.

SMALL HITCH IN PLANS FOR SEWER CONSTRUCTION

Certain Residents of Palm Street Do Not Want Service Until City Water Is Installed.

Plans, profiles and specifications for the sewer construction work have been completed in the city engineer's office in the expectation that the common council would get on them at the session next Monday evening and that a call for bids might be issued immediately thereafter. However, certain residents of Palm street which was included in the system at the last moment, have been raising objections to the projected improvement on the ground that it would be of no use to them without city water service. Chairman Carle of the committee on sewers, it is understood, has stated that he will not be able to go over the plans carefully in time to report on them at the next session and aside from some possible action on the Palm street phase of the situation, nothing is likely to be done until at least two weeks hence.

TO HAVE OPERATION FOR BROKEN WRIST

W. F. Palmer Will Have to Undergo Operation on His Right Arm.

W. F. Palmer, who went to Chicago last Friday in company with Dr. W. H. Palmer, to have his right arm examined by an X-ray, was told that he would have to undergo an open operation before the arm could be set. His arm, which he broke while cranking his automobile, was broken so near to the wrist joint that it was impossible to get sufficient leverage to set it. It will be necessary therefore, to wait until the swelling has gone down and then to operate before the arm can be set. It will be three or four weeks before Mr. Palmer can have his arm set.

HEAD-WAITRESS AT THE MYERS FOURTEEN YEARS

Miss Julia Pierce Has Resigned Her Position and Will Go to Live with Aged Father in Johnston.

Miss Julia Pierce, who has been head-waitress at the Hotel Myers for fourteen years, has relinquished her position, much to the regret of the management and all patrons of that hotel. In company with Miss Kate Manning she will leave next Monday for a visit with relatives and friends at Minneapolis and near Sisseton, South Dakota, and upon her return she will go to her old home in the town of Johnston to take care of her father who insists on remaining on the farm and has no one to look after him in his old age. Miss Frances Green, recently of the Gilpatrick hotel, Milwaukee, is her successor and took charge of the dining room today.

THE PENN MANSION, FAIRMONT PARK, PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Philadelphia is planning upon the most remarkable historical celebration in the history of the country. It will present on Friday, October 9 next, the first historical pageant ever witnessed in the United States and at an expense of $50,000 for floats alone. The story of the birth and development of Pennsylvania will be depicted for the education and admiration of Pennsylvania's millions. The celebration commemorates the two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding by William Penn of the government of Philadelphia. In a great measure the pageant will be replete with features of national interest, long antedating the Revolution.

An entire week will be devoted to the exercises. On Monday, October 5, 25,000 troops will parade. On Tuesday, October 6, the police and fire departments of the city and state will show. On Wednesday, October 7, ap-

Woman in Society.
In society a bright and witty woman, not merely shines, but she reigns. Conversation brings out all her faculties, and kindles all her sensibilities, and give expression to her deepest sentiments. Her talk is more than music; it is music rising to the heights of eloquence. She is more even than an artist; she is a goddess before whom genius delights to burn its incense.—John Lord.

The Origin of Crime.
The frequency of epilepsy among criminals may be regarded in many cases both as cause and effect of their condition. It should be the endeavor of medical science to suggest a remedy.—Hinspial.

How Snakes Hear.
Snakes have no external ears, but inside the head the ear bones are very crude. Snakes "hear," however, by feeling vibration of sounds on their delicate scales covering, and searching for sound vibrations by protruding the wonderfully sensitive tongue, which is filled with thousands of microscopic nerves. Their sight is very keen in distinguishing movable objects.—St. Nicholas.

The Difference.
When a girl tells her girl friends that she is engaged they become gleefully excited. When a young man tells his bachelor friends that he is about to be married they want to fill him with wine so that he can forget it.

BARGAINS IN SUITS AT REHBERG'S

Wachusett Shirts

$11

ORDERS are coming rapidly for these suits which have sold all the season at $14, $13.50, $13, $12.50 and $12, and which we offer now, your choice, at $11. The clothing is all new, this year's stock, of the best qualities, elegant styles, fit and workmanship superb. The saving right now at the start of summer is worth considering. Early buying will insure best selections.

IS NOT a great deal to pay for a real good suit, but it's a whole lot to invest in a poor or fairly good one. We have specialized on these $15.00 suits of ours. They are really the very best for the money that we can find anywhere in the market. They are such suits as you are asked $18 to $20 for at other stores. Beautiful patterns, handsome fitting garments and each suit is sold with the Rehberg guarantee back of it.

WHEN you get right down to the pith of good dressing it is found in the suit one wears. There is a certain individuality about good clothes. The wearer of Hirsch Wickwire hand-tailored clothing is just as distinctive in dress as in the man who comes out with a made-to-measure $50 suit from the tailor's. Hirsch Wickwire suits at $20 to $30 are the most economical outfits you can buy. Wear them 3 years and they are still whole and ready for more wear. We want you to see one of these suits.

STRAWS

...ing rod does not attract, light-and draw it into the ground, but
... as a channel for the discharge
... electricity which accumulates in the
...
...ro, the principle of lightning is
...
... the clouds are filled with an 'elec-
... force'; the house is also filled with ... same electric force, and these ... trical forces, being of the same na-
... , have an attraction for each other.
... The air offers a resistance. When ... these forces become strong enough to ... overcome the resistance of the air,
... they come together with a loud
... crash. You know what the result is.
... Now, here is the purpose of the cop... per lightning rod. The copper rod ... draws electricity from the house and ... discharges it into the air from its
... point, thus preventing any accumula... tion of electrical force in the house.
... We have an electric machine which ... will make a miniature thunder storm.
... It will show you how a house is fond-

ANOTHER TOWN LOT SALE ON THE PACIFIC COAST EXTENSION

Marmarth, N. D., June 18.

Business and residence lots will be sold by auction in Marmarth, North Dakota, Thursday, June 18th. The prices will range from $100 to $500 per lot. Marmarth is the first division point west of the Missouri River on the Pacific Coast line of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway in which town lots are being sold.

Marmarth has a large tributary trade territory, and a promising future as a business town; has five miles of railway tracks; a cement block factory; a bank; several stores, and other lines of business. Openings are now offered in Marmarth for a brick and the works; for stores of all kinds; for professional men, and others.

A great opportunity will be offered at this sale for business men and investors to make paying investments.
Write for full information to F. A.
Miller, General Passenger Agent,
Chicago.

EXPERIENCE TEACHES.

The experience of other owners of property to be painted, ought to be worth something to you. Mr. W. L.
Hoswell of Carthage, Ill., painted his house two years ago with Dove's lead-and-zinc paint; used a bright red for body and trimmed with white. The painter said the red would fade; and that the white wouldn't cover, one coat over the dark ground. The red hasn't faded yet; and the white did cover, one coat perfectly. Those painters had something to learn, too.
J. P. Baker sells our paint.

Don't let it! What you can do all the time with Gold Medal Paint that counts. Try it. Ask for it.

FOR STREET WEAR.

A pretty idea for a morning dress is of figured foulard made like above design. It is trimmed with plain silk of same color, with the yoke tucked down. The hat is of same shade as the dress, trimmed with yellow tulips.

FIRST WEDDING IN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Rose Ryan and William Kennedy Are Parties to First Wedding in New Church.

Evansville, June 4.—The first wedding to occur in the new Catholic church in this city took place yesterday morning at nine o'clock. The ceremony was appropriately decorated with flowers and the church was well filled with relatives and friends who assembled to witness the marriage ceremony of Miss Rose Ryan of Magnolia and Mr. William Kennedy of Foot-ville. The Rev. Father Fitzgerald performed the ceremony which made the happy couple one, and Lehigh's wedding march was played by an organist from Beloit. The bride was attended by Miss Helen Hogan of Chalburg, Ill., and Paul Langdon of Footville served as best man.

Miss Daisy Slinger left this morning for Appleton and will remain away commencing next week. Lawrence pursued by her brother Elmer is to be one of the graduates and also Miss Ann Miller, a former Evansville girl.

Miss Daisy Slinger entertained a number of her lady friends last evening and the time was passed very pleasantly with five hundred.

The little six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Franz died at their home in Chicago Tuesday morning.

Mr. Franz, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Nellie Franz, arrived here with the remains last evening. Roy T. W. North conducted brief services at ten o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. Franz's aunt, Mrs. Arthur Jones, and burial took place in the family lot in Maple Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Clara, Powell and daughter Faith spent Tuesday in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hubbard and little twin sons of Beloit have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hubbard, on Wednesday an "at home" was given in honor of the first birthday of the babies and about thirty-five or forty friends called during the afternoon. The decorations consisted of American flags, roses and pansies.

D. M. Palmer of Chicago transacted business in this city Wednesday.

Mrs. Flora Whiston of Chicago is a guest of Mrs. C. M. Smith this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Dunwiddie of Brodhead were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bullard in this city the forepart of the week.

local visitor yesterday.

Miss Madeline Stevens is home from Phillips, Wis., to spend the summer vacation.

Frank E. Wright of Oshkosh was a business visitor here yesterday.

Miss Nina Latta is here from Clinton for a week's visit to her sister, Miss Edith Latta.

George Shaw returned last evening from a business trip of several days in Jamestown county, Wis.

A. G. Ellis of Brooklyn was an Evansville caller Wednesday.

BIG CHURCH ASSEMBLAGE.

German Baptist Brethren at the Dea Moines Fair Grounds.

Dea Moines, Ia., June 5.—With the coming of a thousand more German Baptist Brethren and the advent of just a little sunshine the fair grounds have taken on something of a gala appearance. Over 4,000 churchmen are now dwellers in the little city of tents and more are constantly arriving from every point of the compass.

While the conference proper does not convene for several days, services in celebration of the founding of the church 200 years ago are held daily.

Senator Jones is Buried.

Washington, June 5.—The funeral of former Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas was held at the family residence in this city Thursday, many of his colleagues in congress and representatives of the Washington bar attending. The burial was in Rock Creek cemetery.

Landslide Stalls Nine Trains.

Helena, Mont., June 5.—A report has reached the Western Union office here that a landslide at Whitefish, in Flathead county, has stalled nine Northwestern Pacific trains on the Great Northern tracks. Several thousand passengers are on the trains.

North-Western Road Trainmaster S. A. Morrison was here from Chicago yesterday.

Motor Car No. 1 came up from Chicago yesterday noon. It has been in the Chicago repair shops for about a week.

Engine 620, which has been taking the place of the motor car, went to Brodhead yesterday afternoon.

Yardmaster D. H. Griffin went to Washington, Ill., this morning, to bring back a motor which was taken there for inspecting purposes. Neil Cronin is taking his place.

Engineer Rainey and conductor Rogers brought the motor car up from Chicago.

Engineer Rainey and conductor Mc-

Clerks in the offices at the new yards will be kept very busy this month taking inventory of the stores and making out their reports to be sent to Chicago. They expect to be fully settled by about the middle of July.

St. Paul Road

here in special car No. 101, going over the Mineral Point division.

Miss McCrea, landscape artist for the C. M. & St. P. R. R., went through on her way to Edgerton, where a new depot has been constructed recently.

MRS. HARRY S. NEW.

Perhaps the most faithful assistant which Harry S. New, chairman of the republican national committee has during his present strenuous days in Chicago, preparing for the great republican gathering June 16, is his claiming wife, Mrs. New. Her delights and finds great pride in her husband's present prominent position.
She is with Chairman New in Chicago and it is said that she is one of his most valued assistants in the work preparatory to the great conference.
Mrs. New has one great find and that find is a collection of newspaper pictures and newspaper cartoons relating to her husband.

Delicious Banana Cream.
This recipe is highly recommended by one of our correspondents; try it for dessert tomorrow.

Put five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoonsful of sugar. Add one teaspoon sweet cream beaten to a stiff froth, then add one 10c. package of Lemon Jell-O dissolved in 1½ teaspoons boiling water. Pour into mold and when cold garnish with candied cherries. Serve with whipped cream, or any good pudding sauce. JELL-O is sold by all Grocers at 10c. per package.

Let Us Think.

Much thinking attenuates the frame, and a hasty temper has the same effect. Those who think little and take things easy are most apt to become corpulent. "Fat paunches," says Shako-square, "make lean patens." Yet, just we forget! The biggest eaters are often the most emaciated of men.
They eat so much it makes them poor to tote it.

Pride Helps.
We mortals, men and women, devour many a disappointment between breakfast and dinner time, keep back the tears and look a little pale about the lips, and in answer to inquiries say: "Oh, nothing!" Pride helps us, and pride is not a bad thing when it only urges us to hide our own hurts—not to hurt others.—George Elliot.

Start the day right by eating Shredded Wheat for breakfast with milk or cream and a little fruit. Puts vim and vigor into tired nerves and weary brains. A muscle-building food that is easily digested by the most delicate stomach. A food for the outdoor man and the indoor man—for the invalid and the athlete. At your grocers.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Try Toasted TRISCUIT, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE THE SULTAN OF TURKEY?

Here is a collection of remarkable photographs showing the surroundings of the most exclusive monarch on the continent, the sultan of Turkey. These views will instantly make an American whose ideas of Turkish art may have been insufficiently developed. Certain it is that no monarch in the world can boast a more splendid home or more luxurious surroundings than represented here by views of oriental splendor.

In the time of our forefathers the forests and fields were the only laboratories from which they could procure their medicines. They searched out and compounded the different roots, herbs and barks into remedies, many of which have been handed down to succeeding generations, and continuously used with satisfactory results. Among the very best of these old time preparations is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. In such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers. This absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. makes it the one medicine that may be used without fear of harmful results in any way. Most blood medicines on the market contain mercury, potash, or some other strong mineral. These act with bad effect on the system, upsetting the stomach, interfering with the digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period of time often cause salivation. No such effects ever result from the use of S. S. S., and it may be taken by children as safely as by older people. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, and all other troubles caused by impure or poisoned blood, S. S. S. is a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities, humors or unhealthy matter, and makes the blood pure and rich. It eliminates every particle of the taint of inherited blood trouble, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, and establishes the foundation for good health. S. S. S. is Nature's Blood Purifier, and its many years of successful service, with a steadily increasing demand for it, is the best evidence of its value in all blood troubles. Sophy of Kravonia

"But some of us have a bit of spirit left, and so Master Sergius shall see," so went on. He put out a hand on either side and caught F. Skoff and Rastatz by their wrists. "We're the fellows to show him," he cried. Skoff seemed to have chosen for such an enterprise—a wiry, active fellow, with a determined, if disagreeable, face and a nasty squint in his right eye. But Rastatz, with his slim figure, weak mouth and high laugh, promised no great help. Yet in him four of Miltch might overcome all other fear. "You, we three 'I show him! And now"—he rose to his feet, dragging the pair up with him—"for a song and a bottle at the Golden Lion!"

Rastatz gasped. Even Skoff started. Markart laughed. It could be nothing more than a mad joke. Cackling was the least punishment which would await the act. "You, we three together!" He released them for a moment and caught up his sword and cap. Then he seized Rastatz's wrist again and squeezed it, savagely. "Come out of your trap with me, you rat!" he growled in savage amusement at the young man's frightened face.

Skoff gained courage. "I'm with you, Herendel!" he cried. "I'm for tonight—the devil take tomorrow morning!"

"You're all drunk," said Markart in despairing resignation.

"We'll be drunker before the night's out," snarled Miltch, "and if I meet that fellow when I'm drunk, God help him!" He laughed loudly. "Then there might be a chance for young Alexis, after all!"

The words alarmed Markart. Young Count Alexis was the king's son by Countess Ellenburg. A chance for young Alexis!

"For heaven's sake, go to bed!" he implored.

Miltch turned to him. "I don't want to quarrel with anybody in Slavonia tonight unless I meet one man. But you can't stop me, Markart, and you'll only do mischief by trying. Now, my boys!"

They were with him. Skoff with a gleam in his squinting eye, Rastatz with a forced, unsteady smile, Miltch with a forced, unsteady smile. "Come out of your trap with me, you rat!" he growled in savage amusement at the young man's frightened face.

"Another bottle apiece and we'll all be heroes," he cried. "Markart, you go home to your mamma!"

Though given in no friendly way, this advice was wise beneath its metaphor. But Markart did not at once obey it. He had no more authority than power to interfere. Miltch was his senior officer, and he had no special orders to act, but he followed the three in a fascinated interest and with the hope that a very brief proof of his freedom would content the captain. Out from the barracks the three marched. The sentry at the gate presented arms, but tried to bar their progress. With a guffaw and a mighty push Miltch sent him sprawling. "The commandant wants us, you fool!" he cried—and the three were in the square.

"What the devil will come of this business?" thought Markart as he followed them over the little bridge which spanned the canal and thence to the door of the Golden Lion. Behind them still he passed the seats on the pavement and entered the great saloon. As Miltch and his companions came in three-fourths of the company sprang to their feet and returned the salute of the newcomers. So strongly military in composition was the company—of fliers on one side of a six feet high glass screen which cut the room in two, sergeants and their inferiors on the other. A moment's silence succeeded the salute. Then a young officer cried, "The king has interfered!" It did not occur to anybody that the commandant might have changed his mind and reversed his decree. For good or evil, they knew him too well to think of that.

"The king interfered?" Miltch echoed in his sonorous, rolling, thick voice. "No. We've interfered ourselves and walked out! Does any one object?" He glared a challenge around. There were officers present of superior rank. They drank their beer or wine discreetly. The junior broke into a ringing cheer. It was taken up and echoed back from behind the glass screen, to which a hundred faces were in an instant glued, over which here and there the head of some soldier more than common tall suddenly projected.

"A table here!" cried Miltch. "And champagne! Quick! Sit down, my boys!"

A strange silence followed the impulsive cheers. Men were thinking. Cheers first, thoughts afterward, was the order in Slavonia as in many other cities. Now they recognized the nature of this thing, the fatal change from sudden obedience to open defiance. Was it only a drunken frolic—or, besides that, was it a summons to each man to choose his side? Choosing his side might well mean taking his life. Miltch rose from his chair, glass in hand. "Long life to the king!" he shouted. "That's loyal, isn't it? Aye, immortal life!"

The cheers broke out again, mingled with laughter. A voice cried, "Hail to his high, Captain Herendel!"

"Aye!" Miltch roared back. "Hail to us he is on us, my friends!"

door and a good way from the redoubtable Miltch and his companions. He looked at his watch. It was nearly 10. In half an hour General Skenovics would be leaving the palace, and it was meet that he should know of all this as soon as possible. Markart made up his mind that he would slip away soon, but still the interest of the scene, the fascination of this prelude—such it seemed to him—held his steps bound.

Suddenly a young man of aristocratic appearance rose from a table at the end of the room, where he had been seated in company with a pretty and smartly dressed girl. A graceful gesture extended him to his fair companion, and he threaded his way deftly between the jostling tables to where Miltch sat. He wore court dress and a decoration.

Markart recognized in the young man Baron von Hollbrandt, junior secretary of the German legation in Slavonia. Hollbrandt bowed to Miltch, with whom he was acquainted, then bent over the giant's bulky back and whispered in his ear.

"Take a friend's advice, captain," he said. "I've been at the palace, and I know the prince had permission to withdraw at half past 8. He was to return to Slavonia then to duty. Come, go back. You've had your spree."

"By the Lord, I'm obliged to you!" cried Miltch. "Lads, we're obliged to Baron von Hollbrandt! Could you tell me the street he means to come by? Because"—he rose to his feet again—"we'll go and meet him!"

Half the hall heard him, and the speech was soon passed on to any out of hearing. A sparse cheer spluttered here and there, but most were silent. Rastatz gasped, again, while Skoff frowned and quivered villainously. Hollbrandt whispered once more, then stood erect, shrugged his shoulders, bowed and walked back to his pretty friend. He sat down and squeezed her hand in apology. The pair broke into laughter a moment later. Baron von Hollbrandt felt that he, at least, had done his duty.

The three had drunk and drunk. Rastatz was silly, Skoff vicious, the giant Miltch jovial and cruelly reckless, exalted not only by liquor, but with the sense of the part he played. Suddenly from behind the glass screen rose a mighty roar:

"Long live Miltch! Down with tyrant! Long live Captain Herendel!"

It was fuel to the flames. Miltch drained his glass and hurled it on the floor.

"Well, who follows me?" he cried. Half the men started to their feet. The other half pulled their down. Contending currents of feeling ran through the crowd. To one his neighbor gave warning, to another indignation. They seemed poised on the point of a great decision. Yet what was it they were deciding? They could not tell.

Markart suddenly forgot his caution. He rushed to Miltch, with his hands out and "For God's sake!" loud on his lips.

"You!" cried Miltch. "By heaven, what else does your general want? What else does Matthias Skenovics want? Tell me that!"

Amid a dead silence he went out, his two henchmen after him. He and Skoff walked firm and true. Rastatz lurched in his gait. A thousand eyes followed their exit, and from 500 throats went up a long sigh of relief that they were gone. But what had they gone to do? The company decided that it was just as well for them, whether collectively or as individuals, not to know too much about that. Let it be hoped that the cool air outside would have a sobering effect and send them home to bed! Yet from behind the glass screen there soon arose again a busy murmur of voices, like the hum of a beehive threatened with danger.

Outside, big Miltch had crossed the canal and come to the corner where the Street of the Fountain opens on to St. Michael's square. "What say you to a call at the Hotel du Paris, lads?" he said.

"That!" Skoff whispered. "Do you hear that step coming up the street there?"

The illuminations burned still in the square and sent a path of light down the narrow street. The three stopped and turned their heads. Skoff pointed. Miltch looked and snatched his ponderous thigh.

Continuous Coughing.

Just as the value of some new uncommon mechanical device is first called in question without trial, so our remedy was first doubted and derided by those who thought they knew.

Naturally there have been "Doubting Thomases" who, clad in armor of old and rusty theories about medicines, have refused to believe that there could possibly be any improvement on the old doctrine. But progress never comes without opposition. It would have been unnatural if the force and power of our proof and demonstration of our success had not captured their reason and forced the doubters to revise their antiquated ideas about cough medicines. So we hold before you the remedy for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough and Croup—our remedy, the successful remedy. It is called Dr. Gun's Cough Remedy.

It is pleasant to take, absolutely harmless in every respect, and Recommended When-ever Used.

Baraga Store Co., Baraga, Mich., says—"Dr. Gun's Cough Remedy gives splendid satisfaction to our trade and where once tried in a family its constant use is an assured fact. Please send us four dozen each size."

D. H. Mallory, Amboy, Minn., says—"Dr. Gun's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough remedy I ever handled."

as far as its effective results are concerned, words fail to express the relief that will be obtained from the first dose.

However severe the cough may be, if taken according to directions Dr. Gun's Cough Remedy will not disappoint you. Of course, every case is different and needs a different length of time for a cure; but the patient may rest secure in the assurance that as long as he is faithful to the treatment he can be completely relieved.

Try Dr. Gun's Cough Remedy; we say it is par excellence—the most thorough, rapid and effective treatment ever prepared for Colds, Coughs, Croup and Whooping Cough and we say it because of the results obtained from its use. There is no remedy "just as good." When a druggist says so, he is thinking of his profit, and not of your welfare. It is a household necessity; look for picture of "Gun" on front and back of each package.
